

Abandon Hope for Crew of Lost Submarine

Germany Expected to Reject Demand for Reparations

United States To Send Demand on Sinking of American Robin Moor

Washington, June 21—(AP)—A strong note demanding that Germany make full reparations for the sinking of the S. S. Robin Moor was expected today to be dispatched swiftly to Berlin following President Roosevelt's message to Congress branding the sinking "the act of an international outlaw."

It was considered a foregone conclusion that this nation's official representations would include a direct warning against any further molestation of American shipping.

The President in his message interpreted the sinking as "a warning that the United States may use the high seas of the world only with nazi consent." To yield to such control, he asserted, would mean that "we would inevitably submit to world domination at the hands of the present leaders of the German reich."

"We are not yielding and we do not propose to yield," he concluded.

The President withheld any indication of the means which would be used to make this forceful declaration effective. In this, he adhered to his established policy of keeping the axis leaders guessing.

Speculation here centered on the possibility that the navy might receive orders to police the waters sailed by American ships, giving them any protection necessary.

Some thought the Atlantic patrol might be instructed to take direct action against any German submarine encountered.

Arming Idea Discounted

In general, the idea of arming merchant ships was discounted. The speed, mobility and firepower of raiders—surface, sub-surface and aerial—have increased significantly since World War days when gun crews were placed aboard merchant ships.

Congressional comments on the message varied from Senator Byrnes' (D-S.C.) "I heartily subscribe to the view of the President" to Rep. Knutson's (R-Minn.) characterization of it as "a curtain raiser for a declaration of war."

Some quarters here believed that in the event Germany rejected the U. S. protest, the President's message would furnish the groundwork for some decisive action. And there were few, if any, who felt that the reich, in view of its previous attitude toward the episode, would submit to the demand for reparations.

Three years ago, however, the United States obtained $2,214,007 in reparations from Japan for the sinking of the U. S. gunboat Panay and for attendant damage to other American property along the Yangtze river in China.

The Robin Moor, out of New York for South African ports, was sunk May 21 by—Roosevelt declared positively—a German submarine.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) a member of the foreign relations committee, expressed hope the message would "shock the Congress and the country into an awareness of how this nazi monster is clutching closer and closer at our throats."

Rep. Eaton (R-N.J.), a member of the House foreign affairs committee, saw the President's utterance as "a sound American message" though "of course it is one more step into a great tragedy."

Green Plans Plane Trip To Camps in Four States

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—(AP)—An airplane trip to army camps in four states where Illinois men are stationed for military training is planned by Governor Dwight H. Green next month.

The governor said that the tentative itinerary includes inspections of camps at Camp Bliss, Texas; Camp Livingston, La.; Camp Custer, Mich. and probably to Camp Forrest, Tenn.

Last month Green and a group of state legislators visited Camp Forrest.

Apples Shipped Abroad Awarded Highest Honor

World wide acclaim for Illinois apples added to state pride in 1900, says the Illinois Writers' Project, W. P. A. That year an exhibit of several varieties of that popular fruit was accorded first prize at the International Exposition at Paris, France.

Summer's Arrival Brings Promise of More Severe Heat

(By The Associated Press)

The almanac listed the official arrival of summer as 1:34 p. m. (CST) today but folks in the sweltering eastern two-thirds of the nation vowed it had sneaked in with a full head of steam some time Wednesday.

Fans and ice cube freezers did extra duty from the Dakotas to the Atlantic where temperatures in the 90's were general yesterday.

And "more, but hotter" was all the Chicago weather bureau could offer. Forecasters said the spell would stay on for two more days and grow in severity.

The cause of what appeared likely to become the year's most protracted heat wave thus far was a stagnant mass of warm air with heat, if any, clouds to filter the heat from the brilliant rays of the sun.

Showers Next Week

A cooler air mass, the bureau said, was expected to move in from the North Pacific coast or western Canada early next week, bringing scattered showers. Some showers and thunderstorms were expected today in North Dakota.

Parts of the Central Plains, near Lake Superior and along the Ohio river.

In the south heavy showers developed yesterday. Brownsville, Tex., had a fall of 2.28 inches in 12 hours.

The mercury surged to 105 in Phoenix, Ariz., the highest in the nation yesterday. Yuma, Ariz., had 104 and other highs included 99 at Carbondale, Ill.; 95 at St. Louis and Cincinnati; 94 at Evansville, Ind.; 93 at Chicago, Cleveland and Springfield, Ill.

Army Wants National Guard Kept in Camps Longer Than One Year

Washington, June 21—(AP)—The war department has recommended that President Roosevelt ask Congress to retain the National Guard on active duty beyond the current single year of service.

Announcing this today, the department said that "legislation is, of course, required, and the final decision is a matter of public policy which must rest with the President and the Congress."

Without additional congressional authority, the first of some 290,000 guardsmen now on active service would be demobilized September 16.

Train Runs Into Herd of Cows; Fireman Dead

Carthage, Ill., June 21—(AP)—A fireman was killed and two members of a train crew were injured last night when a west-bound freight train of the Toledo, Peoria & Western railroad ran into a herd of cows, derailling seven cars.

The dead fireman was Robert Mason, 28, of Peoria. Verd Kirk, engineer, suffered broken hands and Dudley Eldridge, head brakeman, was burned severely. Conductor Russell T. Hickey was not injured.

Between 30 and 40 cars of the train remained upright on the track after the crash, which occurred near the Deer Creek crossing east of Burnside, Hancock county.

Hearing Ear Dog

Oklahoma City, June 21—(AP)—Now comes the hearing ear dog.

Mrs. J. D. Keller, who is hard of hearing, trained Peevee to listen for the doorbell and notify her when it rings.

But the dog went her one better.

It now goes to the door, sees if anyone is there, then notifies its mistress by rubbing against her leg.

Harmful Fluoride Found in Water from Some Wells in Ogle and Bureau

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—(AP)—Mottled enamel of teeth—developed in childhood only and incurable—is produced by a chemical found in drinking water from wells in sections of 31 Illinois counties, the state health department reported today.

The mottled condition is caused by the action of fluoride found in some drinking water, health department officials said, although there is scientific evidence that small amounts of the chemical in drinking water may tend to inhibit dental decay.

The condition develops only before the enamel of the permanent teeth is completely formed and calcified. Once developed, the condition cannot be cured and it must

Auto Industry Now Fully Unionized as Ford Company Signs

Firm Goes "Whole Way" In Its Pact With CIO Auto Workers

(By The Associated Press)

Unionization of the automotive industry was hailed by labor leaders in Detroit as complete today with signing of a history-making pact between the Ford Motor Company and the C. I. O. United Automobile Workers.

Last of the major non-union firms in the industry, the Ford Company, largest family-controlled industrial unit in the world, and the U. A. W.-C. I. O., concluded the agreement yesterday in Washington providing, among other things, for a union shop and dues check-off.

The contract, most far-reaching ever written in the automotive industry, was signed after a fortnight of negotiations and exactly a month after the union, which struck at the company early in April, had won a National Labor Relations Board election in the firm's two principal plants here.

"The agreement with the Ford Motor Company," said R. J. Thomas, U. A. W.-C. I. O. president, "completes the organization of the automotive industry by the United Automobile Workers-C. I. O."

From Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, came the statement that the firm had "decided to go all the way" in dealing with the union.

"As the company now views the situation, no halfway measures will be effective," he said. "We cannot work out one scheme of things for some of our workmen and another scheme for the remainder. So we have decided to go the whole way."

Affects All Plants

Although the contract, first ever signed by the company, covers only the main plants here—the giant River Rouge factory in suburban Dearborn employing upwards of 90,000 workers and the smaller Lincoln plant—it will ap-

Illinois to Save Money on Printing

Springfield, Ill., June 21—(AP)—New printing contracts awarded by the state will result in a saving of approximately $175,000 in the purchase of liquor and beer tax stamps for the coming biennium, state Finance Director George B. McKibbin said today.

During the last biennium the state paid 75 and $2.50 per thousand for liquor and beer tax stamps respectively, but under the new contract awarded to the American Bank Note Company of Chicago, the state will pay 49 and 54 cents respectively.

In the current biennium the state expended about $350,000 for liquor and beer stamps, McKibbin said, but in the coming biennium the state expects to spend less than $200,000.

Under a separate contract awarded to the American Decalcomania Company of Chicago, the state will pay 10.5 cents per thousand for the cigarette stamps. A previous award to the Cuneo Press of Chicago for an emergency supply of stamps to be used when the tax becomes effective July 1 provided for a cost of 11.2 cents per thousand.

Approximately the same prices as for the present biennium will be paid for printing, stationery and office supplies for all state offices and departments under the new contracts, McKibbin stated. Appropriations for these expenditures amounted to $1,847,000, a reduction of $58,640 from the current two year period.

Rock Island Arsenal Is Scene of Tragedy

Rock Island, Ill., June 21.—(AP)—One fireman, Leo J. Kelly, 35, of Davenport, Ia., is dead and nine others are in a hospital, two in a serious condition, after being overcome by fumes caused by smoldering sodium-nitrate at the Rock Island arsenal late yesterday. Kelly died at 5:15 a. m. today.

Arthur Goetsch, Davenport, and Raymond E. Gordon, Moline, are in a serious condition while the others confined to the hospital are George Cyphers, Glenn Martell, Paul Cather and Ray Henley, all of Davenport; Leo Cox, Moline; Elmer Hildebrand, Bettendorf, Ia.; and Patrick Dittman, LeClaire, Ia.

According to Lt. Col. Paul L. Deylitz, in charge of police and firework at the arsenal, workmen were blasting to remove sodium-nitrate from a storehouse where it was stored when burlap sacks buried in the chemical ignited causing the fumes.

Bits of Wreckage Mark Grave of Old U-Boat and 33 Men

Crumpled Steel Shell May Be Left Under 440 Feet of Water

Portsmouth, N. H., June 21.—(AP)—A possibility that the sunken submarine O-9 and her crew of 33 dead might be left on the ocean floor, entombed under a compression of 440 feet of water that has crumpled the craft's steel shell, was sounded today by the navy's high command.

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, unshaven and obviously deeply concerned, told newsmen that "at that depth it is impossible for divers to conduct salvage operations so far as we now know."

"It is a terrible thing," Knox added, "but everything that can be done will be done. I will go to the scene if there is anything I can do to help."

In Washington, simultaneously, navy men said they thought an attempt would be made to salvage the 23-year-old O-9, recently recommissioned, to remove the dead, determine the cause of the tragedy and gain experience in underwater work under tremendous pressure.

Lines Attached

Apparently the decision rested upon further explorations, as divers stood ready to descend on grappling lines which finally were attached to the submarine during the early morning hours. Weather conditions were favorable.

At the scene, large quantities of oil, pieces of cork from the O-9's inner hull and other bits of wreckage marked the submersible's grave.

That all aboard were dead, officials no longer expressed doubt. Knox said he had had "hopes" until this morning. Asked whether the navy secretary would go to the scene, Admiral John D. Wainwright said: "He's in charge of things."

No Life Indicated

The rescue ship Falcon radioed that her grappels had found an object, apparently the O-9, which sank yesterday during a test dive, but that continued efforts to communicate with her gave "no indication of life in the submarine."

Rear Admiral Richard Edwards, aboard the Falcon, said an attempt would be made to send a diver down with the arrival of the Chewick, a submarine tender, from New London, Conn.

Four divers were aboard the Falcon, whose position was about 18 miles off this old New England port—not far from where the submarine Saulaus sank in 240 feet of water May 23, 1939, with a loss of 26 of her crew of 59 men.

Other Divers Ready

Twenty-one other divers, flown here from Washington, were on shore, awaiting a call if needed.

Commenting on the Falcon's find, Lieutenant Commander Edmund Jewell, ashore, said there was "a good chance that it's the submarine."

The contact was made a little outside — about two-tenths of a mile—the "swept" area, which is cleared for submarine dives, but he explained that this region "probably would be swept too," adding:

"It's like when you mow your lawn; you oversweep somewhat."

Jewell asserted that if divers went down and landed on the "wrong" part of the submarine, they might not be able to determine whether anyone still was alive. Signals, however, probably would be successful from most sections of the craft.

President Roosevelt, who kept in personal touch with the navy department in Washington during the night, was told that the navy "was not optimistic" about the situation.

Old, Old Story

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—(AP)—Registration for military service is an old, old story written on brittle, yellowed documents in Illinois state records. There was selective service in this state 111 years ago.

The discovery was made by State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder while he was examining some of the oldest records of his office, filed by a former state auditor, Col. Elijah C. Berry, who served as adjutant general also in 1830.

The data upon availability of Illinois citizens of various ages for military service was contained in certificates by county census enumerators under an 1829 law which made every man between the ages of 18 and 45 a member of the state militia.

County, Township Officials Called to New ADC Fight

BY DON HYNDMAN

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—(AP)—State associations of county and township officials organized a second pilgrimage to Springfield next week in their fight against the $16,000,000 aid to dependent children legislation, while Governor Green took a new step today aimed at overcoming opposition to the bills.

The governor announced a committee had been sent to Washington for a conference today with Paul V. McNutt, Federal Social Security Administrator, on a proposal under which county courts of the state would retain at least a part of their present jurisdiction over the administration of child aid funds.

Transfer of administration from the county courts and township supervisors to the state and county welfare departments has been the cause of opposition to the program by local officials.

Shortly before Governor Green announced the committee's visit to Washington, James R. Cannell, Rockford, executive secretary of the Illinois Association of Supervisors & County Commissioners, said letters were going out to several thousand local officials throughout the state inviting them to attend a protest demonstration against the bills here next Tuesday, June 24.

A similar demonstration was held two weeks ago. The committee which Governor Green sent to Washington by plane for the McNutt conference consisted of Senator Charles W. Baker, Monroe Center, leader of the Republican senate bloc opposing the ADC bills; Senator Nicholas L. Hubbard (D-Mt. Pleasant) and George Arthur, Chicago attorney.

Would Lose U. S. Funds

"Under the present interpretation of the aid to dependent children administration, the state would be deprived of federal matching funds if administration were not undertaken solely by the state department of welfare," the governor said in a statement. "In other words, although 'the legislature might appropriate the state's share of $8,000,000, the other $8,000,000 would not be forthcoming from Washington'."

"I have asked Senators Baker and Hubbard and Mr. Arthur to determine to what lengths the social security board will go toward permitting county judges in Illinois to share in the administration."

The date of the second county officers' pilgrimage here is that on which the senate has scheduled its final hearing on the ADC bills.

Would Cut Relief Rolls

The bills would qualify Illinois for $8,000,000 biennially in federal aid under the social security program. The state would divert the same amount to the child aid program from the state relief fund.

Governor Green has said he believes Illinois should take advantage of the aid.

Italian Officials Ordered Out of U. S. Before July 15

Washington, June 21.—(AP)—The United States today ordered all Italian consulates in the United States closed and all Italian consular officers removed from American territory before July 15.

Undersecretary of state Welles at the same time, announced that the United States embassies in Berlin and in Rome have been instructed to make arrangements for the return to this country of all American consular officials in those two countries, but at the same time to categorically reject allegations made against them by the nazi and fascist governments.

In addition to Italian consular officials, Welles announced that the Italian government had been requested to remove all agencies and organizations of the fascist government, with the exception of the Italian embassy here.

All Agents Affected

All German consulates in this country were closed last Monday and Berlin and Rome immediately retaliated by ordering United States consuls out of Germany, Italy and occupied countries. Italian consulates at Detroit and Newark were ordered closed several months ago, on charges by the state department that they had engaged in improper activities.

Leader of Disabled Vets Denounces Strikes in National Defense

Chicago, Ill., June 21.—(AP)—Strikers in national defense industries were denounced by Col. W. Don Jones, Illinois commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War in an address yesterday at the organization's annual convention.

Col. Jones asserted that the veterans had "no fight to pick with any labor organization," adding, "we are 100 per cent labor. But we are 100 per cent against any group fomenting trouble against the national defense program."

Support of the government in its lend-lease program and all defense activities was urged by Col. Jones who predicted that developments within the next weeks might lead to the sending of two U. S. armored divisions to Dakar, Africa. He did not elaborate on the statement.

Witnesses' Plea Denied by Court

East St. Louis, Ill., June 21.—(AP)—A petition filed by members of Jehovah's Witnesses demanding that officers of St. Clair and Saline counties be prevented from interfering with their religious activities was denied yesterday by a three-judge federal court.

The sect alleged that an Illinois statute, under which members were arrested in Belleville and Harrisburg, was invalid and void under the fourteenth amendment which allows the right of freedom of speech, press and assembly.

The state statute in question bars distribution of literature which imputes lack of virtue to any group of citizens.

Members of the court—District Judges Fred L. Wham of Centralia; Evan A. Evans of Chicago and Walter C. Lindley of Danville—said they did not find it necessary to consider the constitutionality of the statute.

"The statute deals with a type of offense that defies exact definitiveness," the court decision read.

The court said further that it did not believe it essential for the plaintiffs "to distribute literature which belabors existing churches and their leaders with defamatory charges and epithets in order to perform their ministry."

Literary Men Meet Today to Organize National Society Honoring Mark Twain

Brook, Ind., June 21.—(AP)—Here on the shady farm of George Ade, dean of America's humorists, a distinguished group of literary men met today to honor Mark Twain and his works.

They proposed to form a national organization in memory of the author of "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras County." "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," and a whole library of American classics.

Franklin J. Meine and George Hiram Brownell, two Chicago students of Mark Twain who have been cooperating with Ade in the movement, said they hoped "at long last" to found a society which would do full justice to his name.

They also wish to establish a complete and permanent storehouse of information concerning the life and writings of the author, whose real name was Samuel Langhorne Clemens.

There never has been a national organization dedicated to this purpose, Brownell said, although several fine local groups are in existence. One is at Hartford, Conn., where a Clemens home has become a memorial. Another is at Hannibal, Mo., whose scenes are recorded in "Life on the Mississippi."

Among those expected to participate in the founding ceremonies were Roark Bradford, writer of negro stories; Carl Sandburg, the poet; and Morris Anderson, chairman of the Mark Twain municipal Board of Hannibal.

Outbreak of Red-Nazi War in Few Days Now Feared

The War Today!

(This daily feature, conducted by DeWitt MacKenzie, is being written in his absence on vacation by Fred Vanderschmidt.)

Groping in the darkness of the German-Russian imbroglio, the afternoon paper of Lord Beaverbrook, British Minister of State, puts its finger on what would be, for both Britons and Americans, a delicate consequence of German-Russian war. The newspaper, the Evening Standard, urges in advance that the British give Russia whatever aid is possible in case Russia resists German demands, and goes on to say that it will be necessary, also, to try to make Americans understand the reason for aid to Moscow.

Perhaps it is too early to go in for such long-distance peering into what has aptly been called shadowland, but it is certainly true that any aid to soviet Russia, even though intended to defeat nazi Germany, would be regarded with repugnance and suspicion by large numbers of Americans. Indeed, it would be none too easy to convince the British themselves that such aid would be wise.

With Turkey neutralized by the treaty of neutrality which the Turks have signed with the Germans, direct British aid to Russia is practically out of the question. United States supplies, especially airplanes, could, however, reach Russia via the Pacific, and that is what Lord Beaverbrook's newspaper is talking about, without actually saying it.

The reason which would be advanced for the giving of such aid to the Muscovites would be, of course, that Germany must be struck on every possible front if the war is to be won. But whether either Americans or British would be willing to put the weapons in Russia's hands and trust Russia to strike Germany with them is something else again.

Out of the torrent of rumor from the German-Russian borderlands there has come no concrete evidence that Russia intends to fight rather than to give Hitler the economic, political and military domination that he seems to want. The Finnish mobilization, which is fact, not rumor, is, however, pretty convincing evidence that Hitler is now ready to attack Russia, at least with non-German troops, to force acquiescence.

Building Improvements

SMALL HOMES • STORES • APARTMENTS • MODERNIZATION

FOR OLD OR NEW HOMES
By Paul T. Haagen, Architect
Dear Mr. Haagen:
We have read and heard about air conditioning but frankly we are just a bit uncertain what it all means.
Can it be used in an old house as well as a new one?
Any advice you can give us will be gratefully received.
Yours very truly,
A. T. T.

Air conditioning as thought of today in connection with the small home really consists of heating, cooling, and humidifying the air in a warm air furnace. It consists of cleaning and circulating the air and delivering warm air in winter time and cooler air in the summer time. There are other systems more elaborate and technical that may be used in connection with other heating systems.

In the modern furnace, that has been so much improved over the furnace of ten years ago, the air is cleaned, and dust, pollen and other foreign matter is removed. This is done by means of a filter; then the air is heated and circulated by means of a slow moving fan, and air strata are prevented.

Humidity is added to the air by means of an automatic humidifying device placed in the furnace and this adds moisture to the air, which is needed in a hot air system. A modern furnace with blower and automatic humidifica-tion delivers clean, moist, warm air to all rooms of a house better than would the old-fashioned gravity form of furnace. Insulation of the house is important.

TWO BATHS
Dear Mr. Haagen:
What do you recommend regarding baths for a new house? We would like to have two complete baths. With a large family, one is inadequate at the early rush hours.
Is it practical to have a bath and lavatory on the first floor?
Yours truly,
Mr. C. J. M.

Yes, two baths are like two automobiles—one for mother and father, and the second for the family, so most folks, especially where there is a large family, need two baths.
Baths may be placed side by side so that the same pipes may be used in both baths. This is an economy. Perhaps one bath might be larger than the other; in which case, a shower, now so much in demand by the younger people, can be placed advantageously in the smaller of the two as a shower takes up less room than a tub.

It is most practical and advantageous, in most cases, to have a lavatory or bath on the first floor. This is especially true if there are young children in the family, and many steps will be saved by a first floor bath or lavatory.

Each bath should be equipped with a medicine case having a mirror door with lights on either side of the mirror and with all of the necessary built-in gadgets such as towel bars, soap dishes and other accessories.

A PRIMING COAT
The aluminum paints which are on the market now make excellent exterior priming coats or may be used for any other surface needing protection, because not only does aluminum have high resistance to water penetration but it also gives a fine surface on which the final coats may be placed.

Here's just the little cabin you have in mind. It has all you need indoors, and the large, screened porch is practically an extra room. It would cost very little to have built, or you can build it yourself. Write to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, 1337 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C., referring to Design Nova, for details.

BUILDING HINTS

Summer Porches
Now is the time to convert that summer porch into a suitable year-round space. It need not cost a great deal for siding and windows, and insulation may be used for the ceiling. It is a good idea to consider at this time the remodeling of your porch.

Front Door Shelter
A shelter over the front door and kitchen door is very desirable. Not only does it add a decorative note to the exterior of the house but it often adds interest to the blank wall and relieves the monotony of a large surface. It also offers protection from the elements in inclement weather.

First Floor Bedroom
Many families like to have a room on the first floor that can be used as a bedroom in an emergency. This room should be adjacent or close to a toilet. Such a room will be found most convenient in time of sickness or as a day nursery or for an elderly person who finds it difficult to climb the stairs.

Quality Roofs
Regardless of how well planned and designed the house is, it is only as good as its roof because if the roof is leaky, wind rain and snow will play havoc with the interior. Your roof offers more protection to you and your property than any other part of your building.

Bath Tubs
Don't place the bathtub under a window unless it is impossible to avoid doing so. Not only may there be embarrassing moments when the one in the tub, but more especially, chills from the draft may bring on a cold. Also the tub is harder to clean if there is dirt constantly sifting through the window. It is also harder to open the window when one has to lean over the tub.

An Architect's Building Hints

Radiators
Many times the radiators in a hot water heating system or one or two of them, will be cold. The things to do is to open the air valves in the radiator to free same which are probably filled with air needing release.

Shut Off Valves
Shut off valves should be at the foot of every cold or hot water riser in the basement so if any fixture or pipe is in need of repairs the water may be shut off until a plumber arrives to make the necessary repairs.

Painting Concrete
When painting concrete, it is advisable to use only those paints which have been especially prepared for concrete. Paints which are not particularly designed for concrete are likely to peel, scale and discolor as the moisture or the salt in the concrete react on the paint used.

Mirror Doors
A door is a good place for a long mirror and a special door is not needed because the mirror may be placed directly over any door by fitting a wooden moulding around the mirror and attaching to the door. Women welcome this long length mirror, particularly.

Small Home Design
A small home should not be the reduced copy of a larger and costlier dwelling. It is better to keep the required fundamentals of design and plan very simple, but quite practical in the small home.

Sleeping Porch
Many a home could be made more convenient with more comfort by the inclusion of a well designed sleeping porch. Be careful when you build your porch that it does not cut off the air and sunlight from some other room in your house.

Insulation in Summer
Insulation of walls of a house provide benefits in all seasons. In the summer a well insulated house is equipped. Many insulation materials are available in the form of wallboard, which can be installed in houses at small cost. Other types of insulation may be placed between walls and add more comfort in summer.

Damp Basement
Dampness in basements may be improved. It may be overcome by painting the inside walls with a good waterproofing compound. If the walls are cracked the cracks must be filled. If surface seepage strikes through the masonry, excavate a space one foot wide all around the outside walls down to the footings. Repair the cracks in the walls. Then paint the outside walls with pitch or waterproofing compound and place a tile drain around the entire footings and fill in the trench with gravel or broken stone.

Shrinkage
In placing the baseboard in a house, the best practice is to have it rest on the subfloor and butt the finish floor up against it. Even if it is on top of the finish floor, it should be nailed to the subfloor and not to the studs. Then if shrinkage or settlement occurs, the base will not pull from the floor.

Well Lighted Closets
Closet doors should be hung so that light both natural and artificial shines into the closet when the door is open.

Warm Air Ducts
It is better, in installing a warm air heating plant to place the ducts that carry the hot air on the inside walls for then they are not chilled from the outside temperature and in addition the length of the horizontal run in the basement is considerably shortened.

KNOTTY PINE LIBRARY
In my library with woodwork finished in highly waxed pine, a richly hued Oriental rug repeats the colors of the bookbindings, the reds and greens of the flowered linen chair covers and the deep rose linen on the love seat. Harmonizing with these colors are the quaint old tiles bordering the fireplace and the bright racing print above the mantel.

NEW ROOFS
If your house requires a new roof be sure to find out if it is necessary to remove the old roofing and if the roof boards are solid under the present shingles. It may be possible to re-shingle directly over the present roofing material.

After this has been determined choose a roofing material that will harmonize with the architecture of your house. Do not select queer gaudy and freakish roofing patterns in an effort to be original. Be sure that you have a reliable contractor who will guarantee the material to be used as well as the workmanship.

When you are re-roofing your house, inspect the metal work such as the gutters, the flashings, valleys and downspouts. They will probably need replacing if they have been on the house for a good many years.

Chiropractic Clinic Begins Remodeling
Building activity has been under way at 203 First street to make the Chiropractic Hospital and clinic of Dr. S. Chand Bend one of the most modern and efficient in this part of the state.
A sun porch, which is completely screened in and equipped to be fully glassed in for winter, has been adjoined to the south side of the present structure. The addition was made to give the patrons and patients an auxiliary waiting room and lounge room.
Plans include the adding of another similar porch on the south side of the present building to make the expansion for the necessary accommodations.
Further modernization includes the extensive remodeling of the basement to offer the public one of the most complete and efficient chiropractic spas in this part of the state. Building specifications for this project call for the finishing of the entire basement in knotty pine and the installation of rubber brick floors.
Dr. Bend expects to have the clinic completed and open for public inspection about the first of next month.
Again HOME LUMBER can add another business building project to the many others that have been completed during the past year, for Dr. Bend is relying on the quality of HOME LUMBER building materials to give him the satisfaction that he wants.

Your Porch Living Needs Brightening Up
Now that you're beginning to "live" on the front porch again we suggest that you can really brighten it up and incidentally make it easier to keep clean by giving it a coat of our long-wearing LUCAS Porch Enamel.
We have a variety of colors that keep their gloss despite wear, weather and washing.
Why not phone 57 today so you can get this matter taken care of right away... perhaps on "hubby's" leisure time over the week-end?

PAINT EASY TO REMOVE
No matter how dry and hard paint spots on clothing are, you can remove them easily by mixing equal parts of ammonia and turpentine. Just soak the spot two or three times and then wash thoroughly in soap suds.

Gross-Fisher Bridal Will Be Performed Today

Palms, peach gladioli and blue delphiniums will screen an improvised altar at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fisher this afternoon, when the Fishers' only daughter, Edna Lucille, exchanges marriage vows with Kenneth F. Gross, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Gross of Franklin Grove. Dr. L. W. Walter, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Dixon, will read the ceremony at 3 o'clock.

Seed pearl embroidery trims the sweetheart neckline of the bride's white marquisette gown. The bodice is fastened with small buttons in back, and the long sleeves extend in points at the wrists. Miss Fisher's fingertip veil of net is edged with lace, and is gathered into a seed pearl tiara.

White carnations will form the bridal bouquet. Miss Fisher, who will be given in marriage by her father, will also be wearing a single strand of pearls, the gift of her bridegroom.

Miss Mary Weichmeier of Burlington, Iowa, will be attending her former Carthage college roommate as maid of honor. She will be wearing blue dotted Swiss, designed with a sweetheart neckline and basque waist. Her colonial bouquet will contain pink and blue flowers.

Lowell Trottnow of Franklin Grove is to be best man for Mr. Gross.

Miss Blanche Lyford of Port Byron, wearing pink printed organdy, will be at the piano for the nuptial prelude. She will also be playing accompaniments for Miss Eileen Burrus of Arenzville, Chi. Delta Kappa sorority sister of the bride, who will sing a group of three solos, "I Love You Truly," "Cadman's 'At Dawning'" and "Oh Promise Me." Miss Burrus will wear pink dotted Swiss.

Mrs. Fisher has chosen white accessories for the blue sheer dress that she will wear for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Gross will be attired in black sheer with black and white accessories. Sprays of gardenias will be fastened at the shoulder of their dresses.

Pink and blue flowers will be arranged in a center bouquet for the lace-covered refreshment table at the reception, following the ceremony. Mrs. R. Stanley Myers of Arlington Heights and Mrs. William Jacob of Mendota, cousins of the bridegroom, are to supervise the serving.

Miss Fisher, who has been home economics instructor in Franklin Grove high school for three years, was graduated from Dixon high school in 1934, and in '38, received a bachelor of arts degree at Carthage college, Carthage, Ill. She is a member of Chi Delta Kappa social sorority, Beta Beta Beta biological honorary fraternity, and Alpha Omicron Tau honorary home economics sorority.

This afternoon's bridegroom-to-be was graduated from Franklin Grove high school, attended Cornell college, and was graduated from Northwestern university's schools of commerce in 1934. For the past five years, he has been employed in the statistical department of the Illinois Northern Utilities company. He is past master of the Franklin Grove Masonic lodge.

After a wedding trip to the Great Smoky mountains and other southern points, the couple will be at home at 1717 Third street, this city.

About 35 guests are expected to assemble for this afternoon's ceremony from Iowa, Wisconsin, and Arlington Heights, Franklin Grove and Mendota, Ill.

FROM PORT ARTHUR

Among returning vacationists last evening were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hatch and their daughter, Barbara, who have motored to Port Arthur, Canada during the past ten days. En route, they visited friends in Minneapolis, and on the way home, included the Black Hills and Badlands regions on their itinerary.

Rochelle Man to Claim Iowa Bride

At 4 o'clock this afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Landgraf, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Chariton, Iowa, will be reading a wedding ceremony in which Charles K. Olson, son of the senior Charles Olsons of Rochelle, will be claiming Miss Martha L. Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Rogers of Lucas, Iowa, as his bride. Today's nuptial service will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents in Lucas, with only the immediate families of the bride and a few close friends attending.

The home will be elaborately decorated with multi-colored summer flowers. An improvised altar has been arranged in the living room for the ceremony.

The bride will be attended by her cousin, Miss Mary Frances Hunter, of Lucas. Melvin J. Olson is to be his brother's best man.

Robert Kepner of Rochelle will sing two solos, "Because," and "I Love You Truly."

Miss Rogers will be wearing a light green ensemble with a wide-brimmed hat of white straw, and a corsage of orchids. Miss Hunter has chosen a rust-colored dress, and at her shoulder will be a spray of yellow roses.

After a reception at the Rogers home, the couple will be motoring toward the Smoky mountains. When they return, early in July, they will be at home at 1100 North Lincoln Highway, Rochelle.

Miss Rogers, who has been a faculty member in the Rochelle schools for the past two years, was graduated from Chariton high school and Junior college. She later attended Grinnell college, and was graduated from Northwestern university.

Mr. Olson, a graduate of Rochelle high school, is purchasing agent of the Whitcomb Locomotive company in Rochelle.

SPECIAL NUMBERS

In addition to the program announced yesterday for Sunday afternoon's community sing at the Loveland Community House, the Rev. Charles Enoch, pastor of the Lee Mission church, will sing two solos, "The Last Mile of the Way," (Markes) and "He'll Understand: He'll Say 'Well Done'" (Campbell). A chorus from the Lee church will be heard in a group of negro spirituals during the program, which is to be presented in the west lounge at 3 p. m.

ARTIST GUESTS

Thirty artists from the Clay Arts Studios of Beverly Hills, who are associated with the Vanderpool Gallery, were guests yesterday of John T. Nolf at his Grand Dejour studio, "The Whip-Poor-Will," during a Rock river valley tour by bus. The tour was sponsored by Margaret Williams, former art editor of The Chicago Daily News.

The group also included the art gallery at the Oregon public library on their itinerary.

DAUGHTER OF WALNUT PASTOR BECOMES BRIDE

Miss Monica Street and Lieut. Clement Bauman, both of Detroit, Mich., were married Thursday, June 19, at Vincennes, Ind. The Rev. Paul Benedict, pastor of the Wayne Street Methodist church performed the single ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Street of Walnut, and Lieutenant Bauman is a son of the Harry Baumans of Akron, Ohio.

Today, the couple left for Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, where the bridegroom is attached to the signal corps of the United States army.

POST-NUPTIAL PARTY

The Misses Betty and Letty Thompson were co-hostesses at a post-nuptial party last evening, at the Thompson home, complimenting Mrs. Anthony Carrino of Sterling, the former Miss Anna Louise Wheeler of Dixon. Bunch prizes went to Rosetta Bicker and the guest of honor, Helen Joseph, Betty Tooney, Betty Thompson, Rosetta Bicker, Gail Tooney, Mrs. Kenneth Nicklaus, Mrs. Katherine Flanagan, Mrs. Anna Gerdes, and Mrs. W. H. Thompson.

GOLF LESSON

Junior linkswomen of the Dixon Country club, whose golfing enthusiasm continues in spite of the June heat wave, turned out last evening for free instruction in putting at the practice green. Pro Ralph Stonehouse conducts the class sessions, which are becoming increasingly popular with those who would improve their stance and swing.

AYERS-POMONES

Mr. and Mrs. George Pomones announce the marriage of their only daughter, Pearl, to Raymond Ayers, son of Mrs. J. E. Ayers of Ohio, Ill., May 31, at the Woodlawn Methodist church in Chicago. The Rev. W. E. Bradburn read the vows.

The bride wore navy blue with white accessories. At her shoulder was a corsage of white carnations and an orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayers are making their home in Chicago, where the bridegroom is employed.

Bette Morgan of Rochelle to Become Mrs. Rolfe

The wedding of Miss Bette Morgan, daughter of the E. J. Morgans of Rochelle, and Iver Rolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Rolfe of Chicago, will be solemnized at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the Hotel Faust in Rockford. The Rev. William H. Fulton, pastor of Rockford's First Presbyterian church, will hear the vows.

Among the 140 guests who will be present for the 7 o'clock wedding dinner and reception at the Faust, following the ceremony, will be Mrs. George Sintz of Chicago. Miss Morgan will be carrying Mrs. Sintz's century-old handkerchief of heirloom lace when she becomes Mr. Rolfe's bride.

The wedding dress of white marquisette and chantilly lace is fashioned with a short train. Her fingertip veil is gathered into a lace cap, and her arm bouquet will contain white orchids with stephanotis.

Miss Jane Tydemann of La Grange, as bridesmaid, will be wearing a dusty pink dress with a lace bodice and chiffon skirt. Roses and delphiniums will form her bouquet.

Both Mrs. Morgan, in a dress of dusty pink and black, and the bridegroom's mother, in powder blue, will have shoulder corsages of rubrum lilies.

Guests are expected from the east and west coasts. Rochelle, Rockford, Chicago, and Milwaukee.

Mr. Rolfe and his bride will reside in Chicago, where he is with the Bear Brand Hosiery company. He formerly attended the University of Illinois. Miss Morgan was graduated from Ferry Hall at Lake Forest in 1939, attended the University of Colorado, and is an alumna of Rochelle high school.

NELICK-MOUNT BRIDAL WILL BE JUNE EVENT

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Betty Mount, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Mount of Warrenville, to Franklyn Nelick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelick of Walnut. The ceremony will be solemnized Saturday, June 28, at the Community Baptist church in Warrenville.

Both Mr. Nelick and his fiancée formerly attended Cornell college in Mt. Vernon, Iowa.

DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mills of Third street entertained at dinner last evening for the Rev. and Mrs. Ira Langston of New York City and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Schaeffer of Stockton. Mrs. Langston is a Delta Zeta sorority sister of Mrs. Mills.

White Rubber Flatters Figure

Another swim suit sure to appeal to the vacationist who takes her swimming—and her fashions—seriously is the white rubber one immediately above, designed to flatter the figure. The model wears a pair of the new sun-glasses with removable lenses, which come rimmed with colored plastics.

WA-TAN-YANS HAVE DINNER

Further plans for sponsoring a refreshment booth at Dixon's annual Fourth of July Homecoming celebration, and reports by the Misses Retta Jean Keithley and Mila Wahnke, delegates to the national convention of the organization, interested Dixon Wa-Tan-Yans at their dinner meeting Thursday evening at the Hotel Nachusa.

Miss Mila Wahnke, Miss Savilla Palmer, and Mrs. M. E. Potter composed the evening's hostess committee.

JUNIOR CHOIR GIVES PROGRAM

Members of the Junior choir of the Church of the Brethren will present a special program at 7:45 o'clock Sunday evening. Their selections will include "The Life of Fanny Crosby, the Hymn Writer," and a 20-minute Biblical drama, "The Prodigal Comes Home."

A Thought For Today

If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirsty, give him
water to drink.—Proverbs 25:21.

Charity is a virtue of the heart, and not of the hands.—Addison.

"A Sacred Trust of Civilization"

The little ring of politicians at Vichy who now control such "freedom of action" as is left to France have issued some pretty resounding statements about defending the French Empire. Frenchmen in Syria are dying for that.

Is memory so short? Syria is not part of the French Empire, and never was, and never was intended to be. Syria is supposed to be an independent country over which France was given a mandate by the Treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations. The theory of a mandate is that a country or a territory unaccustomed to political freedom, or unable to defend it by force, is given a sort of "big brother" nation to be its political adviser and physical defender until it is able to shift
for itself.

That is the position of France in Syria, that and nothing else. France accepted the mandate under the terms of Article 22 of the Treaty of Versailles, pledging herself to consider the "well-being and development" of Syria "a sacred trust of civilization."

The people of Syria, long under Turkish domination and freed from that by the World War,
wanted the United States to accept the mandate
over them if they had to have a mandatory power.

President Wilson had insisted at the Peace Conference that the inhabitants of Syria and Palestine be consulted as to their future fate. He sent a mission, under Charles P. Crane, to find out what they wanted—and he was the only one who went even that far. What they wanted was independence. Least objectionable mandatory was the United States.

In that, as in many other of his proposals, Wilson was overruled. The French got the mandate.

Granting that they had a difficult task, they didn't do very well with it, either. Syria seethed with revolt practically from the first. Loaded down with French civil and military brass-hats, it never knew a moment's peace, and attempts at military revolt were ruthlessly crushed by the French, who never gave the slightest sign of ever getting out.

That is a brief sketch of the French "colony"
which Vichy is so determined to defend with French blood. For this Frenchmen die. Not for freedom, theirs or anybody else's, but to enable a lot of pot-bellied generals and functionaries to hold on to their comfortable jobs at the expense of unwilling Syria.

CHAPTER VI

BY the time Angus buys a shirt,
a tie and a new suit for $18.75,
and finds himself a room on West 23rd street for $4.50 a week, it is after dark and he decides the best way to tell Adoreen about his job is to go to the place where she works and surprise her.

Angus doesn't exactly like to admit it, but he is a little curious about this place where Adoreen works—curious about Adoreen's singing and this Mr. Garvin Fitzwater, who has got so much business to talk over with Adoreen at lunch every day.

It is 7:30 on the dot when Angus reaches the Purple Pelican.
He is surprised to find the place practically deserted. A dimly hat-check blond, wearing something that looks like a bathing suit with red ruffles, steps toward Angus with a store-bought smile.
She takes one look at the cap in his hand, drops the smile and says, "Peddlers around the kitchen entrance."

"But I'm not a peddler, Mam," says Angus, blushing furiously and refusing to look at the wide expanse of powdered flesh which the girl makes no attempt to conceal. "I'm a customer. I make good money and I came to enjoy myself."

The girl sniffs. Then, sensing trouble, she puts two dainty fingers between her teeth and whistles. A gent who is busting out of a monkey suit comes running.
"All right," says the bouncer to Angus. "Just go quietly and there won't be no trouble."

"I don't want to go. I came here to see things, and I'm staying." Where's everybody? Don't look like much business."
The bouncer is patient. A little diversion is always welcome.
"Things don't start around here until 11. And anyway, you can't come in with those clothes. You gotta be dressed."

Angus bristles. "I don't like you to talk that way about me.
This is a new suit. I wanta go in and wait until 11, if that's when things begin, although it seems pretty late to me. Seems most decent folks are in bed by then."

The bouncer moves menacingly
in on Angus, but Angus just stuffs his cap in his pocket, clenches his fists and waits. So the bouncer decides on safer tactics and says,
"Now look, Buddy, I can't let you in. The boss wouldn't like it."
"I wanta see Miss Mickletwidge—that is, Miss Margate.
She's a friend of mine. She sings here and I wanta see her. And I'm gonna wait."

There is no further doubt about Angus' intentions, so the bouncer says, "That's different. Why didn't ya say so. I'll find a table in the corner for you."

ANGUS doesn't like the looks of the joint—purple rugs, drapes, fancy gold trimmings. People drift in after a couple of hours and he keeps his eyes open for Ado-reen. He doesn't like the way people look at him. All of the men look alike, except that some are middle-aged and fat and some are young and thin. But they are all wearing monkey suits with tails.

The girls wear dresses that are toying dangerously with the law of gravity because there is too much of them near the floor and too little at the top, with no straps to hold them up. Angus drinks ginger ale and nibbles on strange food until 11:30 when the lights go out and a spotlight shines on the floor where people have been dancing.

A gang of chorus girls comes out into the bright light and Angus closes his eyes and reflects on what a confusing world it is—how more people get rich in New York selling expensive clothes to girls who apparently don't wear any. He is glad Adoreen is a sensible little mouse, and then he gets cold with a new kind of fear. He can hardly wait until Adoreen comes out to sing.

When she does, Angus doesn't dare to look at first. He hears someone yell her name and then there is lots of clapping, and finally when he looks into the splash of light, he sees Adoreen sitting on top of a piano.

He freezes to his chair. He wants to run out and hide, but he can't move. There she is, sitting with her legs crossed and with her skirt slit from the bottom all the way to her hips so that her lovely legs are extremely visible to all these stiff-shirted cookies. The top of her dress is as low as any he has seen. Her lips are painted a fiery, sinful red.

ANGUS doesn't listen to her song. He is boiling inside, and when all the lights go on again

and people are still clapping, he calls the waiter over and tells him
to bring Adoreen to his table.

Pretty soon, Adoreen comes down the room and the monkey-suits are blowing kisses at her and grabbing her hand and she is eating all of it up. She is disturbed to see Angus, but she sits down and orders Scotch and ginger ale and then whispers to the waiter to never mind the Scotch.

"Addie," says Angus firmly,
"I've come to take you home."
"Don't be silly, Angus, my dear," Adoreen says, in a voice that goes with the cover charge. "I'm getting along fine. Didn't you hear the applause?"

"They wasn't clapping at your singing!"
"Angus!" Adoreen's eyes start flashing like the red lights at a railroad crossing. "You never have appreciated my talent. Well, other people do. I wish you'd go home and leave me alone."

Angus is mad now. He gets up and pulls his cap out of his pocket.
"Put on some regular clothes, Addie. I'm gonna take you home."
"Kindly leave me, Mr. Mac-
Phillips," she says icily. "Mr.
Fitzwater is going to take me home
after I've finished working at 3 o'clock. Please do not annoy me."

For a minute Angus fights an impulse to grab her and carry her back to Caleb bodily. Then he kicks over a chair which skids into a dowager's shins and stomps toward the door.

ANGUS walks over to Eighth avenue and grabs a subway train. He gets off at Eighth street, not caring much where he is going. After the stifling, roaring ride in the subway, the cool air feels good. It makes him hungry.
He sees a little white hamburger
shop down the street and he goes in to order a bowl of chili and a steak sandwich.

Angus doesn't see the weary,
harmless little man who slides onto the stool next to his. He is the sort of city-dweller who never gets in anybody's way—the sort you wouldn't notice if you passed him 100 times a day. He is holding open a hamburger sandwich
and looking uncertainly at Angus.
"Will you please pass the catsup?"
he asks.

Angus takes one look at the littly little brown mustache on the man's lip and springs from his stool. With one arm he yanks the frozen little guy off the stool and lets loose with his other fist. The little fellow sails over the counter and drops loudly into a bin reserved for fresh buns.

Washington, June 20.—Arming of American merchant ships will never be done until this country is at war. The initial publicity drive to start it now is being pushed into the icebox quickly and quietly by administration authorities.

They think the stories that they would seek legislation to place guns on merchantmen started through erroneous interpretations of what they are already doing. Navy is arming transports, troop carriers and such auxiliary ships. Apparently word of this activity got around on congress-transformed into a movement for all merchant ships arming as a backwash of the sinking of the Robin Moor.

Not many favor repeating that mistake, which led us into the last war as much as any other. It proved suicidal before. The armament could not be sufficient to furnish any real defense against submarines. Merchant decks could not stand many guns or big ones. The submarines merely began to torpedo without warning. Needless loss of life resulted.

The records show no cases in which an armed merchantman bagged a submarine before our entry into the war, and very few afterward. But plenty of merchantmen were sent down by subs
they never saw.

If the administration desires to protect American merchantmen, prior to actual participation in the war the prevailing opinion of its own military authorities is that some other means will have to be found, such as convoying.
Destroyers are equipped to be a match for their assailants. The feebly armed merchantman is only a deathtrap.

The White House is calling out
the guard for the St. Lawrence treaty. Pushed up before congress will be Hull, Knox, Stimson, Wickard, Knudsen and Governor
Lehman as starters.

The drive is being organized by the administration because the polls indicate clearly the legislation could not pass if a vote were taken today. House Chairman Mansfield privately has conceded this.

Roosevelt's personal mustering of his forces is supposed to be a minor secret, but his defense
leader, Knudsen, let the whiskers of the cat out of the bag at his last press conference. The OPM Director was asked why his organization was supporting the St.
Lawrence project.

"Because we received a letter from the president," replied Knudsen, who knows more about other machinery than the political kind.

The state department order
barring refugees whose families remain in Hitler's hands was issued without legal authority, but no one will say anything. The step will be legalized by congress shortly. Roosevelt is acting swiftly now to meet various technical situations as they arise
without regard to legal red tape.

War department has refused to say how many tanks were sent to the British in Egypt, although it was nothing like the 400 which the Italians claim. Actually 24 shiploads of equipment and materials from the United States have now arrived in Suez. Not all these cargoes were tanks. Probably no more than 100 of our light M 1's and M 2's were involved in the fighting.

Strangest fact of the matter
is no one here has a report on how they fared, the point of the utmost importance to us in our current program.

Note: The army has quietly shifted away from the restricted side turret for its big guns in the new tank. Last models off the line show the turret in the center giving it efficient firing range.

VFW Auxiliary to Hold Baby Show
in Dixon Soon

A Prize Baby Show and Welfare
Pageant is to be conducted here for the little tots of Dixon and surrounding territory by the Veteran's of Foreign Wars Auxiliary.
No entry fee will be charged and any baby under the age of five may be registered.

Each baby entrant will receive a thorough physical examination and the score card filled in by the doctor will be returned to the parents. Any baby scoring over 90 per cent in health will receive a health certificate.

A baby beauty parade will be held at the Loveland Community
house on Wednesday afternoon, July 2. The prettiest baby girl and the handsomest boy babies
will be chosen in each age class
and Miss and Master Dixon will be the two prettiest babies chosen in the entire show. Blue ribbons and gold loving cups will be awarded the winning babies.

Coronation Pageant
The climax to the show will be the coronation pageant which is to be held at the Loveland Community House on the evening of Friday, July 11th. The stage will be arranged as a little fairy kingdom and the little kings and queens with their flowing robes and glittering crowns will reign
for that night over the city of Dixon. Gold loving cups will be presented to the baby royalty.

Registrations will be taken for one day only at Kline's Department store baby department, on Tuesday, June 24th at 10'clock.
Special gifts will be given to the first 25 babies registered Tuesday morning. Babies need not be present for registration.

Deaths

Local—
GEORGE W. BUCKALOO
George W. Buckaloo, a pioneer resident of this locality, passed away at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Katherine Shaw Be-thea hospital. Funeral services will be held at this late home, 615
N. Hennepin avenue Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev.
Herbert Doran, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating, with interment in Oakwood cemetery.

"Uncle George," as he was familiarily known to his friends,
was born May 28, 1849, in the Bend and lived in Dixon and vicinity his entire life. He was the last of six children born to Joseph and Eliza (Kerr) Buckaloo, all of whom preceded him in death. He was a man of sterling character,
quiet and unassuming in manner.

His immediate survivors are two nieces, Misses Grace and Elizabeth Buckaloo, with whom he resided; also the following grand nieces and nephews: Mrs. Josephine Redmond of Akron, O., John Ives of Toledo, Clinton Ives of Dixon, Sidney Buckaloo of Maysville, Mo., Warren Buckaloo of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Eleanor Roll-man of Nelson township, Mrs. Dorothy Kittleson of DeKalb and Mrs.
Margaret Brader of Dixon.

Mr. Buckaloo's body may be viewed at the Preston funeral home until Monday morning when it will be taken to his home to await the funeral hour.

GEORGE MILLER
(Telegraph Special Service)

Forreston, June 21.—Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at the De Graff funeral home
for George Miller, 70, who passed away Thursday evening at the home of his sister, Mrs. Henry Kilker in Forreston.

Mr. Miller was born at Haldane, Sept. 23, 1870 and had resided in the vicinity of Haldane and Harper all his life. In February, 1941
his home at Harper was destroyed by fire and since that time he had lived with his sister.

Surviving are his sister, Mrs.
Kilker; one brother, Jackson Miller of Marshalltown, Ia., and several nieces and nephews.

New State Forest of 1,050 Acres Planned

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—(AP)—
The division of forestry has purchased 1,050 acres of land adjacent to the present 200-acre Oquawka game refuge in Henderson county to establish a new state forest.

Livingston W. Osborne, state director of conservation, said today that development of the new state forest will begin next spring.
State forest acreage, including the two owned by the state in Union and Mason counties, now totals
10,314 acres.

California has been producing olive oil for twenty years.

New Bombers Are Made Ready For Service in Army

Spectacular New Planes Are Already Being Produced

By DEVON FRANCIS
Dayton, O.—(The Special News Service)—In a city which looks each morning as though its face
had been newly scrubbed, the armed services of the United States are projecting new designs
of warplanes which, ten years ago,
would have seemed fantastic.

The army air corps has been conservative in hinting what its warplanes could do. Some of these spectacular new planes already have passed the experimental stage and are in production.

Information on their speed,
range, armament and load-carrying capacity is restricted. The army and the navy do not want to "telegraph a punch" to possible
enemies.

I came to Wright field prepared to doubt. I am going away a convert.

It does not necessarily follow that no other world power can match American warplane performances, but I believe it is safe to conclude that those performances are not being outdone abroad.

But the objective of the Air Corps' vastly expanded aeronautical laboratories is to exceed the all-around efficiency of foreign-made planes.

Test Combat Planes
The combat airplanes being tested, and those projected, fall
roughly into three categories:
Heavy, long-range bombers which constitute the "artillery" of an air force; shorter range medium bombers which constitute the "artillery" of an air force; shorter range medium bombers for attack work, and fighters.

Any type of warplane is always in the process of evolution, and some of the lighter medium bombers appear to be developing into tomorrow's fighter planes, capable of carrying several men. Heavily armored and bristling with guns of cannon caliber, they could be used for ground strafing of troops, a task which fell to pursuit planes in the World war.

One type of American-made bomber—the Douglas which carries the factory designation of B-26 and the air corps designation
A-20—is employed by the British as a night fighter.

The long-range bombers, on which the United States held a practical world monopoly until 1939, are being expedited to help solve the British problem of reaching objectives far removed from available bases and to buttress the American seaboard and oceanic defense.

Bombers have offensive missions; fighters, defensive. Most highly publicized of late among the fighters undergoing tests at Wright Field are the Lockheed YP-38, a twin-engine type, and the Republic P-47, a single-engine plane.

Equipped with about 2,000
horsepower each, they fly spectacularly. They can reach altitudes of seven miles "going away," as they say at the race track. How much higher they can fly in this day when climbing ability is an indispensable prerequisite in fighters is one of Wright Field's restricted bits of information.

As for speeds, the Air Corps
has raised its objective well above 450 miles an hour. The army is not in the habit of fixing a new objective until an old one has been achieved.

Years Ago

(From Dixon Telegraph)

39 YEARS AGO
A. W. Hoffman, one of Dixon's popular dry goods merchants, has decided to go to Rice Lake, Wis.,
to manage a large commercial house.

Several racing fans of Dixon went to Chicago today to attend the Derby.

The mail carriers are now supplied with shirt waists furnished
by Rosenthal & Son.

25 YEARS AGO
A Panama scrapper being demonstrated to Dixon township highway commissioners yesterday afternoon, tore up and graded one mile of road in six hours.

The Dixon fire department has been invited to attend the Iowa State convention of firemen at De Witt next week.

The Chamber of Commerce band will give its second open air concert at the Nachusa Tavern tomorrow evening.

10 YEARS AGO
John Greer, 8-year-old son of
Mr. and Mrs. John Greer, 947 Brinton avenue, was painfully injured Saturday evening when he drove his bicycle into the side of a moving automobile.

Several passengers on a Pickwick-Greyhound bus were badly shaken up early Sunday morning when the bus crashed into a traffic light abutment at Seventh and Galena avenue.

MEN'S GARDEN CLUBS MEET
SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(AP)—The 1942 convention of the Men's Garden Clubs of America will be held in Highland Park, Ill., delegates to the annual meeting voted yesterday. C. E. Pfister of Highland Park was elected second vice-president of the organization.
Frank Moots of Newton, Ill., won
the society's silver medal for the best entry of 40 to 50 small varieties while L. D. Glasscock of Elwood, Ill., was among the winners in herbaceous hybrid varieties.

Service Clubs to Be Operated Near Military Camps

Preliminary details of the appearance inside and out, as well as the recreational facilities to be provided within the 360 proposed U. S. O. service clubs to be operated adjacent to military camps,
naval stations and defense centers
are revealed today by Victor A.
Rule, Director of the Central States Region of the United Service Organizations for National Defense.

According to architectural plans,
the service clubs will be large imposing structures with plenty of room provided to meet the specific needs of each community or area.

Upon entering, service men will find themselves in a large lounge, approximately 40 x 50 feet. The walls will be of textured wood finished in soft colors to provide an effective background for pictures.

Venetian blinds are sprossed for the windows and there will be a large fireplace on one side of the room. Opening into this space on one end will be a "snack bar" or refreshment stand and at the other end a covered screened porch
with tables and chairs.

Opening off the lounge will be two small rooms 25 x 30 feet
which will be available for entertaining friends and relatives and for small group meetings. There will also be a ladies' parlor 16 x 16 feet where mothers, wives and sweethearts of service men may relax.

At the far end of the lounge will be the entrance to a large social hall, the dimensions of which will vary according to the needs of the community. This room will be at least 45 x 70 feet and will contain reading, writing, game and social facilities.

In certain localities where there is a need for sleeping accommodations over weekends, cots will be provided to be set up in these larger rooms. Where necessary, adequate office accommodations for administrative purposes would also be provided.

Civil War Soldiers Helped by Collection

In 1862, during Civil War days, when home folks in Illinois and other states organized to aid the welfare of the boys in uniform, 621 women of Leavittown, Fulton county, or nearly one half the population, began to collect a wide variety of items.

A detailed report of their first year's work, says the Illinois Writers' Project, W. P. A., included the following: "Cash, $227;
99 towels, 49 shirts, 42 handkerchiefs, 61 pair of drawers, 7
coats, 51 pairs of woolen socks, 3 vests, 1 pair of pants, 6 pairs of slippers, 37 pillow cases, 15 sheets,
3 quilts, one pound of woolen yarn,
6 dozen wash basins, 1 bushel of turnips, 1 barrel and 21 pounds of butter, 6 barrels of pickles, 1
and one half barrels of dried apples, 2 barrels of apple butter, 1
and one half barrels of sauerkraut, 140 dozen cakes, 66 pies, 52 dozen eggs, 2 chickens, dried and canned fruit, needles, thread, reading matter, and other small articles."

Two Illinois regiments composed of men principally from Fulton county received the money and goods.

KNACKS GO TO PERU

Peru Merchants are looking forward to their return tilt tomorrow with the Dixon Knacks at Washington park in Peru. Having bowed once to the Knacks in an early season game which the Dixon team won, 9 to 4, the Merchants are out for revenge. Local players will meet at Walter C. Knack's office at 12:30 tomorrow for transportation.

FISH STORY

Charles Heckman, Dixon contractor, who specializes in catching big fish as a diversion, was today exhibiting his latest catch. Fishing in a small lake near Westfield, Wis., yesterday, he caught a small mouth black bass weighing five and one-quarter pounds, which was champion of his string for the day. His reel showed a limit catch of bass for his few hours diversion.

DIXON VS. STERLING HERE (TENNIS)

Dixon Beier's tennis club, undefeated in league competition this season, has a match here tomorrow afternoon with the Sterling netmen at 2:00 o'clock. Those who will play on the Dixon team are: Ward Smith, Allen Wienman, Harold Peterson, Dick Joslyn, Red McNamera, Howard Quick, George Covert, one of the team's ace players, is still out of competition with an injured ankle. Other injuries which beset the team this season are handicapping Quick with an injured back, Smith with a trick knee and Joslyn with a sore wrist. Next Sunday the undefeated Morrison team comes here for a league match.

PLAN FORMAL OPENING

Lights are being tested and re-adjusted at the driving range at Plum Hollow Golf and Country club and Frank L. Randall announces that it is hoped to have everything in ship-shape by Monday night. A formal opening is planned for later in the week with several outstanding events on the program.

TRAIL RIDE TOMORROW

The largest trail ride of the season, sponsored by the Rock River Trail and Horseman association, will be held at the Babson Arab stables tomorrow. The ride will start from the Babson farm at 8:30 a. m. (rain or shine) and the trail will lead through the beautiful wooded section of Grand Detour, the scenic area of Rock River Valley and along the picturesque Pine creek. The morning ride will be approximately 12 miles, returning to the Babson Stables for dinner. The afternoon ride will start at 1:30. An old-fashioned country dinner with all the trimmings will be served at noon and a chuck wagon with plenty of refreshments will be on the trail morning and afternoon.

JUNIOR LEGION PLAYS TOMORROW

The Junior American Legion baseball team will play Amboy at Reynolds Field tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. The team manager is still trying to hook games with very little success. The Junior Legion team has an important game with Rockford early next month for the sectional championship.

NINTH WIN FOR SEALS

It was reported to this department today that the Dixon Seals defeated the Dixon Bears, 38 to 15, yesterday. The correspondent also adds: "The Seals had only four players: Walker, c; Utz, p; Davine, 1b and Jenkins, lf. The outstanding player for the Bears was Joe Richards. In the last inning 13-year-old Red Callahan beated two of the Seals' players."

TENNIS CHALLENGE

Red McNamera moved from 10 to No. 7 position on the Dixon tennis ladder after he challenged and defeated Bill Moser yesterday morning with sets of 6-3 and 6-2. Bill takes No. 8 rung. In the afternoon McNamera challenged Ward Smith, but the latter defended his No. 1 spot with sets of 7-5 and 6-3.

BEHOLD THE FISHERMAN

"He riseth up early in the morning and disturbeth the whole household; Mighty are his preparations; He goeth forth full of hope; When the day is far spent he returneth, smelling of fish and the truth he not in him." Thus says a postcard from Athletic Director A. C. Bowers who is enjoying a vacation with his family at Charlevoix, Mich., "where the trout bite." The inscription is printed on the card and in Bowers' own handwriting he declares: "We are having a glorious time—fishing and boating and having fish for breakfast." (Let's see, our vacation isn't until August—ho hum!)

IMPROVEMENTS

Added to the improvements at Plum Hollow Country club is a new outdoor fireplace which has just been completed and is available for picnicking-golfers.

TENNIS DATES

Dixon Beier's Tennis club will meet Freeport here in a holiday match Fourth of July. The Freeport team is current leader of the northern division of the Rock River Valley league and Dixon is undefeated to date in the southern division. If the two teams can maintain their records they will meet in the playoff. Freeport plays Janesville, Wis., soon for the leadership. On Sunday, July 6, the Beier's team will play Rochelle here in a southern division match.

PLUM HOLLOW TO MT. MORRIS

A troupe of about 25 Plum Hollow golfers will go to Mt. Morris tomorrow morning for a match with the Mounters. Play will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

VISITS FAMILIAR GROUND

William Burns of Dixon, more familiarly known as "Billy" Burns went to Oregon early in the week at the fair grounds looking over the horses. For years Burns trained and drove horses in Oregon and up to a top-notch, and several other nags got along well under his training.

Finest Athletes To Wind Up National Collegiate Track Championships Today

By ROBERT MYERS

Palo Alto, Calif., June 21—(AP)—Girded for record shattering performances, 200 of the finest athletes in America ring down the curtain today on the 1941 track and field season with the big meet of the year—the National Collegiate Championships.

With one world mark already placed in the discard in yesterday's qualifying trials—a tremendous discus throw by Indiana's Negro star, Archie Harris—today's finals brought together representatives from 53 schools in Stanford university's great sports stadium.

Harris' mighty effort with the heavy platter measured 174 feet 8 1/2 inches. The recognized world record is held by Germany's Willi Schroder—174 feet 2 1/2 inches, set in 1935.

More Thrills Today

Spectacular as Harris' achievement was, more thrills were expected today. Champions back to defend their 1940 laurels were Norwood Ewell of Penn State, the 1940 sprint king; Indiana's Campbell Kane in the 880; Al Blozis of Georgetown in the shot put; California's Martin Biles in the javelin; Johnny Wilson of U. S. C., co-champion in the high jump; and Harris, given another chance to outdo his own efforts of the trials yesterday.

New York, June 21—(AP)—Lou Nova, California collegian, today was signed by Promoter Mike Jacobs to meet Champion Joe Louis for the heavyweight boxing title in September. The site and date will be announced later. Jacobs in selecting Nova from a long list of challengers, including Billy Conn, pointed out that Lou was the only one of the group that had not had a shot at the title.

GAMES LAST NIGHT
Farm Bureau 17; Polo Garment 5.
Coopers 11; Naylons 10.

It looks like the "ruralites" are the boys to beat in the Polo Softball league. Last night in the first game the Farm Bureau team clouted the Polo Garment club, 17 to 5, and moved into a tie for league honors with Tony's Ranch. Each team has won three straight contests.

In the nightcap event the Naylon squad came within a couple of runs of winning its first league contest, but bowed to the Coopers 11 to 10 in the winup.

Pitching the Farm Bureau to victory was Shenefelt who allowed the Garment team only four hits as he walked four and struck out none. D. Livingston was the losing chucker and he permitted 17 hits, walked two and fanned one. After a one-to-one score at the end of the first inning, the Farm Bureau pulled away with four runs in the second, six in the third and six more in the fifth.

Heavy Hitters
Heavy hitters for the winners were Woodin who got three in four trips to the plate and Boddiger who got three for five.

Galar of the Polo Garment team scored a home run in the fifth with one aboard. In Coopers' victory over Naylons Cooper and Brander shared pitching honors and off their combined efforts the Naylons socked out 10 hits.

Stoner, just returning from his honeymoon, was the batting star of the losers as he got three hits in four trips to the plate and Miller's home run in the fourth was high spot of hitting for Cooper.

The fourth innings saw a brilliant double play chalked up by Naylons on a relay from Walters to Noakes to Mades.

Naylon did the hurling for his team and allowed only seven hits, walked seven and struck out one. Two postponed games will be played on Monday night.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.

(Punch hitting for Eddie Brietz)
New York, June 21—(AP)—(The Special News Service)—Cauliflower Au Gratin—or using up the remains; The fight pictures show that Louis hit Conn 24 times during the half minute flurry of punches that polished off Billy... Who was it said the Bomber had slowed up... Nevertheless there's proof that Joe ain't what he used to be in the number of guys arguing about who's going to fight him next... A year ago nobody wanted the job... Sports writers hereabouts were unapologetic in praising the champion's sportsmanship in not letting go to the punch he had all ready when Conn slipped during one of the early rounds, but nobody was surprised... That's the kind of a fellow Joe is; He wants to win fairly.

SUBSTITUTE'S LAMENT.

Dan Desmond, Sioux City (Ia.) Journal: "Billy Conn's 13th-round exchange with Louis was the most disastrous, most costly trade since the Cubs dealt with the Cardinals for Dizzy Dean."

HEADLINE OF THE WEEK

TOUCHING ALL BASES

Have you noticed that the Yanks' Charley Keller, who is hitting only about .265, is leading the league in runs batted in and is near the top in honors... He's switching his style to aim for the right-field bleacher so that what hits he gets count... It took Babe Dahlgren less than a week to become a hero with Chicago fans, who look on his fancy fielding with amazement after the kind they got used to seeing during Zeke Bonura's heyday... Hank Greenberg will return to Briggs stadium for a day if he's willing to play with the Fort Custer team on the amateur day program! July 27. Post officers already have said they're willing.

MOTORCYCLE CLUB TO HOLD TROPHY RACE AT PRINCETON TOMORROW

The Bureau Valley Motorcycle club will hold its fourth annual motorcycle tourist trophy race meet Sunday afternoon June 22 at 2 P. M. CST. at Princeton.

The program of events will be under the supervision of the American Motorcycle association and will be run under their rules and regulations. There are nine big events scheduled and with the large entry list several elimination races will probably be held. This year the prize money has been increased and a total of 36 cash prizes, and a beautiful trophy will be awarded the winner of the main event.

Races of this type have left and right turns, jumps and steep hills and are always packed full of action, thrills and spills. With the keen competition this year the spectators are assured a full afternoon of red hot speed and action. Entries are coming in from Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin and Florida.

LEADERS IN INVERNESS GOLF TOURNEY FACE TESTS TODAY

Toledo, O., June 21—(AP)—Leaders in the seventh annual $7,000 Inverness four-ball matches faced crucial tests in today's pair of 18-hole rounds, the slate calling for the three top-birth duos to battle each other.

Ben Hogan and partner Jimmy Demaret won two matches yesterday to go out front with a plus five rating, but they were to face Byron and Nelson, P. G. A. title-holder, and Jimmy Thomson in today's first round.

Nelson and Thomson are in second place with a plus four rating. The afternoon slate calls for Nelson and Thomson to battle Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta, only two-time winners of the classic, who climbed from last to third place with twin wins yesterday.

While the leaders are tearing each other apart, the others have a chance to gain ground, for each hole won counts a point, no matter what caliber of opposition it is scored against.

FRED MEAD, 80-YEAR-OLD LEE COUNTY RACING VETERAN, IS "BACK IN THE HARNESS" NOW

By DICK MEADE

(Telegraph Special Service)

Paw Paw, June 21—In 1875 at the state fair, which at that time was held in Ottawa, Illinois, harness racing fans were introduced to a new owner and trainer, thirteen-year-old, Fred Mead. Mead drove his horse, Nimble Dick, to victory, and for over 60 years following that memorable day, Mead, owned, trained and developed many harness winners. In 1934, some 60 years after winning his first race, Fred Mead closed his long colorful and successful career at Princeton, Illinois, driving his own horse, Peggy M., to victory. Racing fans in every circle were pleased to see the grand old man close his racing career the same way he entered—with a winner.

Fred Mead now of Amboy, and the tracks at the age of 80 training a three-year-old colt out of one of his most consistent winners, Vera M. Mead gained his fame as an owner, trainer, breeder and driver, while residing at Paw Paw.

Yes, the grand old man of the harness racing game, after seven years in retirement, is training a three-year-old and is intending to start the horse blazing around the ovals this fall or next season.

Drove Fine Racers

Going back to the days when harness racing was in its heyday, Fred Mead owned, trained, bred and drove some of the best harness racers in the United States. Mead horses were known throughout the land as consistent winners, and the Mead colors were feared in all racing circles. Mead in his 60 straight years in the racing game, trained and drove horses raced on the big tracks of the day.

And now at the age of 80, with the same flaming competitive spirit, Fred Mead is training another potential winner.

Getting back to the harness racing heyday, Pacemaker 2:09 and Pert, 2:10, both pacers, were two of the finest horses ever developed by Mead. At that time, Pacemaker and Pert were the two fastest three-year-olds ever bred, trained, owned and raced by the same man. Pacemaker won 16 straight starts before suffering a defeat.

To give a still clearer insight on Mead success as a trainer and driver other famous horses of the harness racing game should be mentioned. Charles Simmons, 2:07 1/4, a pacer, was for many seasons a consistent big money winner. Charles Simmons was a money winner on the Grand Circuit tracks. Wheeler F, 2:08 1/4, a pacer, established fame under the training and driving of Fred Mead. Wheeler F finished a close second to Queen McGregor at Ottawa, when the latter horse established the world's record for pacers over the half mile tracks at that time.

Another Mead Success
Trimmer, 2:10, a trotter, was another Mead owned and trained success. Other big name horses of the harness heyday were Lena May, 2:09, a pacer, and Lassie B, 2:08, a trotter, also trained and raced by Mead.

Many racing fans, consider Charleston as the greatest Mead success. Charleston was owned by Riley Mead and was trained and raced by Fred Mead. Charleston, 2:12 1/4, a trotter, was without doubt one of the greatest horses every to step on the racing ovals of that day. At that time, with harness racing at its height, Mead was offered $30,000 for the great Charleston, but refused the offer and the great thoroughbred died a Mead horse, leaving fond memories never to be forgotten by racing fandom.

Fred Mead trained and drove Charleston to his great successes on the tracks. One race in particular deserves special attention as it gives an outstanding viewpoint of the interest in harness racing at that time and also gives vivid view of Mead training and driving prowess.

Purse Is Arranged
In 1889 Fred took Charleston to Earlville where fans were expecting to see a great race between the Mead prize and Mark Monroe a great winner of that day, from Mendota. Mark Monroe and his owner failed to appear for the classic and a group of red hot fans along with Mead, called Mark Monroe's owner that they were willing to meet the Mendota horse on any track in the United States in a match race. A purse was arranged and four days later, Fred Mead driving Charleston met Mark Monroe in one of the harness racing's real great classics.

The race was held at the Freeport track with a huge throng on hand and it was said that over $10,000 was wagered on the race. The best three out of five heats was the agreement for the classic and after losing the first two heats with Charleston, Mead came back to win the final three heats and the race and thrill one of the day's largest throngs.

Other great horses trained and drove to success by Mead were Lassie B, 2:08, a trotter, and Lena May, 2:09, a pacer. Horses that will be remembered by so many of the younger racing fans as Mead winners are: Blossom, Total, Vera M. and Peggy M.

One of the Greatest
The above mentioned facts bear out Fred Mead as certainly one of the greatest owners, breeders, trainers and drivers ever to circle the harness racing ovals of America.

Today, as Fred Mead races past the empty, crumbled down amphitheater at Amboy, in the process of training his colt, fond memories of the harness racing heyday, and his great successes must whirl through his mind. A smile must come to his lips as he dreams of days gone by, the many times he tipped his cap at the winners stand, and of the future when he may have another Mead winner at the age of 80. Yes, it happens once in a life time.

Value of WPA Is Shown in Record of Lee County

To illustrate the value of WPA work projects one need only scan the current five-and-a-half year report issued today by T. G. Lindquist, WPA manager for District No. 1, whose office is at Rockford. This report tells of work accomplished since the inception of the WPA program up to and including current operating projects.

Among highlights mentioned in the report is the project completed for the Park Board of the city of Dixon, a recreational development on approximately 25 acres of land located within the city limits, consisting of baseball diamonds and football field. The area was formerly an unattended vacant plot of ground filled with obnoxious weeds; it was in a very run-down condition. Today it is highly improved and has a 10-foot wire fence as enclosure. The people of Dixon have shown their appreciation of this fine park by making use of its facilities. Also for benefit of the public, the Dixon Park District sponsored a project for improvement of drives through Borden Parkway. This work consisted of resurfacing, ditch drainage, landscaping and construction of a stone arch bridge. Approximately $100,000 Federal funds were expended on these jobs.

Work at Compton

In the village of Compton, located within the county of Lee, a crushed rock macadam street was completed as well as proper grading and drainage. This village street is approximately six blocks in length and represents a much needed improvement, as prior to completion of the work it was but a mud surface roadway. About $15,000 Federal funds were expended for this operation.

Lee county has an extensive county-wide project which includes construction of new surface farm-to-market roads, also grading, drainage and ditching. This project included construction of concrete curbs and gutters, sidewalks, driveways, and approximately one mile of storm sewer, including catch basins and manholes. To date 55,000 cubic yards of crushed rock and gravel have been placed on both township and county roads throughout the county in general. This work has involved an expenditure of $400,000 Federal money.

At the present time the WPA in Lee county is engaged in construction of three miles of crushed rock roadway being prepared for bituminous resurfacing. This project has encompassed to date approximately $19,000 Federal funds out of a total allocation of $31,500. This is a non-certified national defense unit.

Plans Submitted

Plans have been submitted, for approval and operation, for a new project which will have for its object, grading, draining, resurfacing, ditching, shouldering retaining walls in the county-wide road and street improvement project. It is proposed to spend $45,000 Federal funds. Operations will be under way on this program within the next few weeks.

Mr. Lindquist's five-and-a-half year report shows that Lee county now has a total of 182.8 miles of highways, roads and streets improved by WPA of which 179.6 miles were rural roads. The report shows one new masonry bridge built by WPA and 46 other bridges either repaired or reconstructed. Three hundred twenty-five culverts measuring 9629 feet in length were newly built and 6.7 miles of curbs were installed. Two hundred thirteen miles of road-side drainage were improved, according to the report. Three public buildings were erected, one was a recreational building, one a garage and the other the Dixon Armory.

Among the big WPA improvements in Lee county was the Illinois National Guard Armory at Dixon. It is one of 13 such structures completed during 1940 in various parts of Illinois. The armory was constructed for one infantry company and is located at the southwest corner of Everett and Upham streets. It is of concrete construction, 134 x 198 feet overall, the drill being 90 x 119 feet. The height of the structure is 35 feet under the arches. There are facilities for housing enlisted personnel, quarters for officers, necessary supply rooms, etc. The drill hall will also serve as a community center. The stage is 17 1/2 x 56 feet. There are adequate check, dressing and rest rooms. Federal cost of this work was $158,427, the sponsor contributed $66,757, making a grand total of $225,184.

Hospital Completed

During 1940 the project at the Dixon State Hospital was completed. This was for the improvement of grounds and streets throughout that location. The project improved approximately three miles of curb and gutter and asphalt drives. This included catch basins, turnstiles, excavating parkways and shoulders, tree replanting, concrete culverts, quarrying and crushing and placing of stone. Federal funds used on this project amounted to $43,458.

At sea, the Germans claimed sinking of six merchant ships and an auxiliary cruiser equipped for catapulting a plane; a total of 52,900 tons all by submarine action and a 6,000 ton freighter sunk by aerial attack in the Humber estuary.

U. S. Note Expected

In Washington, meanwhile, observers predicted the United States soon would dispatch a note demanding full German reparation for the sinking of the U. S. freighter Robin Moor which President Roosevelt declared yesterday was "the act of an international outlaw."

Dispatches from Berlin pictured the German man on the street as worried and pessimistic about German-U. S. relations. The older generation especially was said to have abandoned hope for early conclusion of the war should America pitch in to help Britain fight.

MOCKINGBIRD UP NORTH

Glen Rock, N. J., June 12.—My rose garden in these Ramapo foothills of northern New Jersey is, I believe, the mockingbird's farthest north. Rarest and greatest of our singers, I add him and the hummingbird to the 28 species that waited on the wings of Aeolus, visited my garden. Columbine, cherries, and roses called him, as petunias and delphinium soon will entice the jeweled hummingbird.

Few, perhaps, will believe that a mockingbird was ever seen and heard above the Potomac. I have known him all over the southland, from the blazing Rio Grande to soft shining Virginia. They say he stole his 20 lyrics. Maybe 20 species stole their notes from him and specialized. But here he was on three June mornings at 6 o'clock, with the world all to himself (except he sings for God), parting the curtains of spring and summer, remembering the echoes of the music of the high spheres, and obeying the signals of earth's billion song resurrections since the chaos, when his kind took up the prophesy.

I could not believe my ears or eyes. I was transfixed. Was it a catbird? The song was too long, too varied, too full, and wildly tremolo. The catbird flits about. Mimic of many notes stayed steady on one bare branch of a mountain ash, his tail down; he seemed to hug the branch closely by his breast, while he threw his vocal head to all quarters of the listening wood and garden. Nature was enrapt. The wild flung chorus that the sun awakened, stilled itself, and was all look and worship. A high priest was here! For 20 minutes, clinging to one place, he gave a full opera—melting lyrics, trilled cadenzas, coloratura notes dropping like water beads, dramatic arias of sustained power, violins, smothered notes, claret, and flute tones, deeper sorrows of brass throats, up and down, hurled and caught, repeated and mixed. He whipped the wind with echoes. He held all nature.

It was a high, and rare, and hushed event as old and as new as life. Over the world I have gone to many lands of song and seen and heard and been told, but to my dying day no one perhaps will believe the truth that I ever heard a mockingbird in my garden as far north as these Ramapos. Mark well the sacred chosen spot and visit it all ye wondering winged creatures! I prefer to think I was in the zephyr stirred gardens of eternal peace just this side of Eden!

FRANK PARKER BECOMES MAN TO BEAT IN TENNIS ROUNDS

Chicago, June 21—(AP)—Frank Parker has set himself up as the man to beat for the National Clay Courts tennis championship.

The Spring Lake, N. J., player served up a clue last Sunday by trouncing Don McNeill of Gambier, O., in the finals of the St. Louis triple tournament. Yesterday Parker left no doubt about it when he again whipped the national champion, this time to reach the finals of the singles event he won in 1939.

In defeating McNeill, 3-6, 6-0, 6-4, 6-2, Parker also upset Bobby Riggs' hopes for a championship rematch with McNeill, who carried off the title last year.

Riggs to reach the finals, must dispose of Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., today. It was the only singles match schedule, the rest of the program being devoted to doubles play.

The men's and women's singles titles will be decided tomorrow. Two Los Angeles women—top seeded Pauline Betz and Mary Arnold—will play for the women's crown.

BEN DOWNING WINS SECOND WESTERN JUNIOR GOLF MEET

Ames, Ia., June 21—(AP)—Ben Downing, 18-year-old Monroe, La., lad, ranked today as the second golfer to win the Western Junior Golf championship two years in succession.

He turned the trick by stopping Mark Weidman, 17, Baraboo, Wis., who hitch hiked to his first Western junior meet, 7 and 6, in their 36-hole battle for the title yesterday.

Draft Registration Locations For Ogle County Are Named

All male citizens of the United States and aliens who have become 21 years of age since October 16, 1940 and all aliens between the ages of 21 and 36 who have come to the United States since October 16, 1940, will be required to register for selective service on July 1, 1941. The Ogle county draft board announces that residents of DeMott, Flagg, Lynville, White Rock, Monroe, Scott and Lafayette townships will register in Rochelle. The registration will be held in the west office room on the first floor of the Tigen building at 509 Lincoln avenue, Rochelle. Anyone from the other townships of Ogle county who are working in Rochelle that day, may also register there.

Residents of the remaining townships of Ogle county will register at the local board office on the third floor of the court house in Oregon. Ada McCurk, county clerk has offered to send someone from her office to assist at the local board office in the event help is needed. One member of the office force will conduct the registration in Rochelle. Ben Berve has volunteered the services of Eleanor Unger, his secretary, to help in Rochelle, if necessary. Registration will be conducted between the hours of 7 A. M. and 9 P. M. Anyone from other counties who will be in Ogle county on July 1st, may register at either of the two places mentioned above.

E. R. Tigan, chairman of the Ogle county draft board has submitted his resignation to take effect July 5. In due course another member, probably from Rochelle, will be appointed to take his place.

Ford, who in 1914 startled industry by instituting a $5 minimum daily wage, thus becomes the first motorcar producer to grant a union shop and the check-off system by which the company deducts union dues from the pay envelopes of its workers and pays them over to the union treasury.

The union shop clause gives the company the right to hire any workers it desires, but requires them to join the union. It differs from a closed shop under which the union supplies the labor force.

Wage Parley Next

The contract further provides that the company will pay wage rates "equal to the highest paid in various classifications" by competitors. Wage negotiations are expected to begin next week.

In addition, the agreement calls for elimination of the Ford service department. Plant protection by that department is to be performed henceforth by employees identified by badges.

While industrial peace appeared imminent for Ford, there was trouble on other fronts in the defense program.

A. F. L. machinists on strike from San Francisco Bay area shipyards early today for the second time refused to return to their jobs, rejecting an ultimatum from Harvey W. Brown, their international president, that they go back. He said that, acting on the authority of the international executive council, he was ordering that the strike end at Midnight tonight, and that no more donations be forthcoming from the international, Local 68, however, turned the order down.

Harry Hook, business agent of the local, said his executive board lacked authority to concur in the action of the international.

The machinists want the old wage scale of $1 an hour increased to $1.15 and a continued payment of double time for overtime. They have turned down $1.12 an hour and time and a half.

tage of the federal aid, which he said would help reduce relief rolls.

After the first demonstration here against the bills by some 600 county and township officers, a group of irate legislators introduced bills to abolish the office of township supervisor and to create a commission to investigate their official acts. These bills were tabled yesterday in the house of representatives.

At least two county boards of supervisors, those in Sangamon and Logan counties, adopted resolutions this week in support of the ADC bills despite the opposition to them by the supervisors' state association.

Many legislators have predicted the senate vote on the bills will be close. Administration sources have conceded a recent survey indicated 18 of the 28 GOP senators opposed them. Democratic leaders, however, have supported the bills, thus indicating they would not be a party issue in the upper house. Democrats have 23 votes in the senate, where twenty-six votes will be required to pass the bills.

Any Man Who Gets His Pay Lives To Rhyme Another Day

Verse to entertain as well as to advertise local goods and services was featured by one Illinois newspaper about a century ago.

A jeweler in Stephenson county, a local historian has found, fostered better business with the following assurance:

Yet for bounty and your sake,
Good banknotes in pay I'll take.
So bring your clocks and watches,
too

And I'll make them run as well as you.

Even the editor of the paper, the Illinois Writers' Project, W. P. A., observes, sought the Muse to promote his financial interests by printing a rhymed reminder for his subscribers:

Other your bills you promptly pay,
Wherever you do go, sir—
The butcher for his meat is paid,
For sundries is the grocer.

The tailor and the shoemaker
Thatter and the vintner,
All get their pay—then why neglect
To settle with the printer.

A somewhat disconsolate barber, however, set forth his service charges without the help of anapest or dactyl. He simply announced that a haircut would cost twelve and a half cents and a shave, six cents. "These prices," he added, "will be put up 'till some barber comes along who will do the business for nothing."

Rev. Frank A. Campbell, Minister
Prophecy now being fulfilled—The Presbyterian pastor is to discuss present day fulfillments of ancient prophecy, Sunday.

Last Sunday was Father's Day and the Sunday preceding was Children's Day at the Presbyterian church. Both had their appropriate services but they interrupted the studies on "Prophecy and its Fulfillment" which has been interesting an increasing number of persons.

The pastor believes that, in order to round out the subject, there needs to be about two more studies. In the past discourses, he has dealt almost entirely with prophecies made long ago and fulfilled in the course of past history. Perhaps the most interesting of all is the study proposed for next Sunday, names: "Prophecies Now Being Fulfilled." This will be followed on the 25th by a study of "Prophecies Yet to Be Fulfilled."

All who are interested in the changing events of our present generation and desirous of peering into the future for things to come, will find these studies intensely interesting. The public is cordially invited.

Sunday school at 9:45. The church service and the kindergarten both at 11 o'clock.
